Gas Permits Are Resumed

H. G. Meenen, senior vice-president of Illinois Power Co., announced during the weekend that new natural gas permits have been issued in the three top priorities of IP gas service under the rules of the Illinois Commerce Commission. All gas permits had been halted May 1 for reassessment of the supply situation.

After the assessment of the company's gas supply from pipeline sources, its own gas storage facilities and its ability to create gas from propane-air installations, it was determined that all priority 1 and 2 requests filed through May 25 could be fulfilled, Meenen said.

In addition, he said, a small part of priority 3 requests could be met.

All future requests for gas will be handled in the same way, Meenen stressed—on written application for service and on a first come, first served basis.

sus with the priority system as gas becomes available.

"Unfortunately," Meenen said, "not all priority 3 requests can be fulfilled at this time. The first come, first served, rule applies. There will also be new priority 1 and 2 applications after this date which will have to wait."

Priority 1 is residential space heating and small commercial space heating not exceeding 250,000 Btu per hour, while Priority 2 consists of firm gas requirements up to 1,500,000 Btu hourly.

The third priority is for firm gas requirements exceeding 1,500,000.

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency on Friday announced approval of a package of far-reaching interstate water quality standards submitted by the state of Illinois.

Festival Rehearsals Open to Local Groups

Three adjunct programs involving the Mississippi River Festival and the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra were announced Saturday by William Tarwater, chairman of the music department at SIU-SW.

A special section of a course entitled Introduction to Music History-Literature will be based on the repertoire to be played at the symphony concerts, which open July 8 and end Aug. 13.

This course is open to all students and there are no prerequisites, Tarwater pointed out.

In addition to the regular five hours of class per week, attendance at rehearsals and concerts will be required. Maximum enrollment for this section will be 75, and all students in the class will be admitted free for lawn seating at the 12 concerts.

The class will meet at 10:30 a.m. Monday through Friday, beginning June 19. Instructor will be Janet Scott of the SIU-SW music faculty.

Symphony conductor Walter Susskind will instruct the second course offering, Music 411a, Symphonic Literature, which will meet on Wednesdays from 3:30 to 6:30 p.m. This course is open to upper-division and graduate music majors only, an maximum enrollment will be 35. Students in this class will be admitted to symphony rehearsals and will receive free admission for lawn seating at the concerts.

The third MRF adjunct is open to student groups interested in attending rehearsals or concerts of the St. Louis Symphony during its six-week residency at SIU-SW.

Musical faculty will provide orientation and instruction regarding specific repertoire, instruments and sections of the orchestra, function of the conductor and a proper concert etiquette.

Adult sponsors and leaders of the groups will provide supervision, Tarwater said. Students and chaperones will receive free admission for lawn seating at the symphony concerts.

This program is not limited to musical groups, Tarwater said. "Any" church-sponsored or other organized groups are encouraged to take advantage of this opportunity to help build the musical climate of the area, he explained.

Regional Forum Hearing Jobs, Image, Through Streets, Teamwork Cited as Area Needs

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

Needs for improved public transportation and for a local food stamp distribution center were among suggestions presented by Quad-City residents during a regional goals hearing by the Regional Forum of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council Thursday night in Venice.

Other discussion centered on needs for drainage, a local legal aid facility for the poor, stricter law enforcement, housing and improved communications between elected officials and citizens.

A public relations body to improve the image of the Illinois region and a need for everyone in Madison and St. Clair counties to unite for the advancement of the area, particularly to support the proposed new airport at Waterloo-Columbia in Illinois, also were urged.

Forty Quad-City officials and residents appeared at the Venice Park District building to air their views to three representatives of the Regional Forum.

Presiding at the meeting was Carl Mathias, Illinois Power Co. service area manager, a member of the Forum. Others present were Forum member Delmar Valine and Donnell Curry, a member of the Gateway Council's task force on housing.

Also attending were Dr. John E. Lee, mayor of Venice, and Mayor Mike Sasyk of Madison. Mayor Donald Partney of Granite City had indicated he wished to attend but previously had committed himself to appearing in the Shrine parade in Granite City at the same time.

"The East-West Gateway Council is charged with formulating policies, goals and programs to resolve regional problems and we have been sent here to hear your ideas of what should be included in those plans. I can assure you that everything you suggest here tonight will be communicated to the council," Valine told the gathering.

Dr. Lee said Venice has several needs which he hopes will be included in any plans for this area.

Among them are the need for a through street from Federal Aid Route 151 to McCambridge Avenue, the need for a centrally located incinerator plant to serve the Quad-Cities, the need for closer coordination between agencies with a better definition of each agency's duties to avoid duplication, and the need for a public relations body to make this area "a better place to live and work in," he said.

Chris Pashoff, Madison health officer commented that with full support from local residents, the Chamber of Commerce of the Tri-Cities could serve effectively as such a body.

Unemployment Cited

Sasyk cited unemployment in Madison as the city's main problem and said if the city had greater accessibility to federal and state loan programs, the city could develop commercial and industrial areas to provide more jobs.

"Areas close to us are receiving millions of dollars in grants which they do not pay back. We could pay this money back. All we are looking for is a place to borrow the money. If we can get the money, we can take care of ourselves in Madison," Sasyk said.

He also cited a need for better streets and more roads on which heavy trucks can travel.

Need For Drainage

Among those in the audience who spoke was William "Mike"

Ebersoldt, president of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District, who said proper drainage is probably the greatest single problem facing Madison and St. Clair counties. He called for united support of hillside drainage efforts.

"We have the people, we have the industry and we have the political power. All we have to do now is get together," Ebersoldt said.

On transportation, Ebersoldt proposed that the Bi-State Transit System investigate the possibility of purchasing smaller buses which would be less expensive to operate, leading to more service at the same cost.

"The smaller buses could travel on any street and when necessary could even let a sickly or invalid person off at his doorstep," he added.

Use School Buses

Another man in the audience commented that the possibility of using school buses for public

Public Invited to Sing In 1972 Concert Series

"Music Under the Stars" summer concerts will return to the Quad-Cities June 27 and rehearsals will begin this week.

Lawrence Berry, new director of the music series, is hoping for a large turnout of volunteer vocalists. "The only requirement is a love of singing," he told the Press-Record today.

Rehearsals have been planned for 7:30 p.m. each Monday and Thursday at the Granite City High School choral room, beginning today.

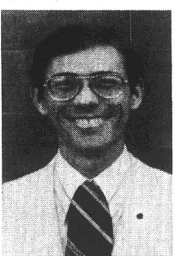

A special rehearsal for the younger chorus, composed of fifth through ninth grade boys and girls, has been scheduled for 11 a.m. Thursday, June 8, at the GCHS choral room.

It is planned to have the junior high school chorus and also an older group composed of high school students and adults.

Berry, originally from Paris, Tenn., resides at Pontoon Beach and has been a local resident for the past two years. He is organist and choir director at St. Peter's United Church of Christ, Granite City.

A concert pianist, Berry holds a bachelor of arts degree in music from Southern Illinois University-Southwestern and at present is studying for a master degree there.

He also has studied music in Boston and at locations in Europe.

Although not strictly "under the stars," the rooftop rink affords an open-air arena which usually is cool on a breezy summer evening.

The initial concert will feature Mrs. Richard Branding as vocal soloist and will include selections from "Fiddler on the Roof," folk songs and the number, "Shalom."

As the concluding selection, spotlighting the approach of Independence Day, there will be a special arrangement of "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

26 DAYS WITHOUT A QUAD-CITY TRAFFIC FATALITY

Bycycle, Car Collide, Youth Hospitalized

An 11-year old Madison boy was injured when his eastbound bicycle swerved into the path of the westbound car of George D. King, 1535 Second St., Madison, at 9:30 a.m. Saturday on Seventh Street at Lee Avenue in Madison.

Dale Roy Heil, the son of Jerry Heil, 1647 Fourth St., Madison, told police his hands slipped from the bicycle handlebars, causing the bike to swerve into the oncoming lane.

He was admitted to the hospital with hematomas to the head and forehead and a contusion to his left upper leg. X-rays were taken.

Sudden Illness Hospitalizes Mayor; Satisfactory Today

Mayor Donald Partney of Granite City is in satisfactory condition today at St. Luke's Hospital, St. Louis, after suffering a sudden illness Friday morning in his office. He had been in fair condition Friday afternoon.

The mayor became ill about 11 a.m. Friday and asked that his physician, Dr. Jacob Cohen, be summoned. His son, Donald W. Partney, was present at the time and called the doctor.

Dr. Cohen examined the mayor in his office and at 11:20 a.m. called for an ambulance to take him to St. Elizabeth Hospital. Oxygen was administered in the City Hall office and in the ambulance.

He was admitted to the hospital "for observation and testing." At 3:30 p.m. Saturday, Mayor Partney was transferred to St. Luke's Hospital by ambulance for further testing.

Among the tests administered at St. Elizabeth Hospital were heart tests which showed no signs that the mayor may have had a heart attack, doctors said. They also indicated that the possibility of diabetes or a diabetic attack has been ruled out.

The mayor is awake, alert and well oriented," Dr. Cohen commented this morning.

GOALS HEARING held by the Regional Forum of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council in Venice Thursday night was attended by 40 Quad-City officials and residents who suggested goals which should be sought in planning for the region. Mayor Mike Sasyk of Madison, standing, presented several suggestions to reduce unemployment in Madison. Representing the Regional Forum were, from left, Donnell Curry, a member of the Gateway Council's task force on housing, and Delmar Valine and Carl Mathias, Regional Forum members. At far right is Dr. John E. Lee, mayor of Venice.

lic transportation in off hours should be considered.
"It's our tax money that paid for them," he said.
A representative of the Madison Senior Citizens Club called for improved public transportation.
"Transportation for the elderly to the doctor, meetings or elsewhere is one of our biggest problems," he told the Forum representatives.

A woman added that it costs 90 cents per round trip for a Venice senior citizen to visit a funeral home in Madison.
"That's too much. We simply can't afford it," she said.

Food Stamp Problem
Sue Criminger, director of planning and evaluation for the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission (EOC), told the Forum representatives that lack of a food stamp distribution point in the Quad-Cities presents a real problem for the poor and senior citizens of the area.

Audie Edwards of the Madison County Welfare Rights Organization added that his group is seeking ways to convince public aid officials that food stamps should be sold at banks or from a mobile food stamp sales truck.

A need for public legal aid for the elderly and poor was mentioned and Mayor Lee commented that a Legal Services Society of Madison County office is located at 406 Madison Ave., Madison, where assistance is available to those in need.

Need Health Clinics
A lack of out-patient health centers for the poor in Madison County also was cited and one man said four or five such centers were needed in the county.

Several allegations of failure to enforce laws were strongly rebuffed by the two mayors present.

Mathias summarized the discussion: "What you are saying is that we need stricter law enforcement. We will convey this thought to the Gateway Council."

Sue Criminger then told the Forum representatives that the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council or some other body should serve as a clearing house for assistance programs.

"We need a place we can call and say, 'Here is our proposed program. Is anyone else doing that?'"

The present Gateway clearing house program deals with this only when there is a proposal for a construction of a building to house a program, but not when new social programs are proposed in the present buildings, she said.

Define Gateway Role
She then asked the Forum representatives what the citizens of Madison County can expect from the Gateway Council.

Mathias answered that, to date, the council has served as a place to go for approval of grant applications on requests for federal funds.

"Now HUD (the Department of Housing and Urban Development) has instructed East-West Gateway to come up with plans for land use, highways and other plans which must be completed and approved by the end of the year.

"Once these plans are approved, it is up to the Gateway Council to see that we can underwrite them. Then the government will give the council the power to see that these plans are carried out," Mathias explained.

Help Prepare Applications
Wally Altes, Regional Forum director, suggested that the council consider making the Gateway staff available in the future to assist cities and other bodies with preparing federal grant applications.

"Many small cities simply cannot afford to hire consultants to do this for them," Altes said.

A question as to why the council was not considering housing in the hearing was answered by Mathias, who said separate housing proposals are being prepared by the Gateway staff and hearings are being prepared by the Gateway planned within the next month to deal only with housing problems.

He assured those present that the Gateway Council will take no action on housing proposals until the hearings had been completed.

Professor Airs Views On Nixon Summit Talks

Soviet Communist Party Chief Leonid Brezhnev enhanced his status as number one man in the USSR hierarchy during his talks with President Nixon while simultaneously leaving an opening to dissociate the Communist Party from undesirable results of the agreements signed in Moscow, says Kamil Winter, associate professor at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern.

Winter, former director of news for Czechoslovakia television and a former Czech newspaper columnist, said Brezhnev's personal power politics was just one factor in the summit talks with President Nixon.

"After the marathon of document signing, handshaking and champagne toasting, the question is going to be raised time and time again about which of the two superpowers actually gained an advantage from the tangible and intangible results of the meetings," Winter said.

"Another question that will be raised is how much if at all those nations with no claim to the super-power attribute will have reason to rejoice. A brief glance behind the Soviet scene might provide some helpful hints for the more serious observers of this inevitable and difficult guessing game."

Winter said the Soviets want the summit talks badly enough to risk criticism from their allies for meeting with leaders of a government that had just announced drastic bombing plans in North Vietnam.

"Not so long ago a previously planned Soviet-American summit had been broken off for much less valid reasons," he said. "This thought alone justified the assumption that this time the Soviet motivation must have been very long indeed."

Golden Rule

Winter said Brezhnev in signing the agreements "did not violate the golden rule of the system, the traditional pretense of party and government separation, which enables any communist bureaucracy to dissociate itself from governmental decisions, which in fact have been inspired, worked out and ordered by the party."

"It enables the party leadership to put the blame, if necessary, on those in whom the vested executive, governmental authority, to survive the frequent somersaults of its own policy."

Brezhnev has been at great pains to demonstrate this imaginary separation by his conspicuous absence from the airport at the arrival as well as at the departure of President Nixon. This was a sign that he as party leader doesn't wish to commit himself fully to the future, possibly unfavorable results of that memorable week."

The problem of Communist China was a second factor in the outcome of the summit talks, Winter said. He said the Soviet leadership was compelled to produce something better from the communist point of view than what emerged from President Nixon's visit to China earlier this year.

"The rich crop of signatures codifying concrete U.S.-Soviet agreements appears to have accomplished this aim," Winter said.

Stabilize Empire

A desire by the Soviets to stabilize their East and South-East European empire was a third major factor in the talks, Winter said. American willingness to participate in preparations for a European summit conference, as expressed in one of the Moscow agreements, is extremely significant from a Soviet viewpoint, he said.

Dissent from Soviet policy in Hungary, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Rumania and other nations in the communist bloc has been sustained by the fact that border established by Stalin's armies after World War II have not been fully legalized by valid international agreements, Winter said.

"Soviet military presence in those countries is still an element formally open to eventual discussion at the international bargaining table," Winter said.

Brezhnev's Politbureau has known all along that the desired stabilization of the Soviet European empire can only be achieved by the international codification of the status quo, namely by an agreement underwritten by the U.S.

European Security

This is to be accomplished by the European security conference for which the Soviet leaders have been pressing for so long. While the East European nations hope such a conference may lead to the withdrawal of Soviet armed forces from their territories, the Soviet leadership expects it to legalize the borders of its present European empire."

Problems of the Soviet economy were a fourth major factor in the agreements signed in Moscow, Winter said. "As helpful and important as the nuclear arms limitation agreement may prove to be, there is little to prove that the Soviets are motivated by reasons stronger than their own economic interests," Winter said. "As far as the problem of nuclear war is concerned, only a superficial observer would judge the Soviet attitude to have undergone a basic change."

Winter said Soviet troubles in the fields of agriculture, industry and management are "compelling motives for both the current and previous Soviet leaderships to seek some understanding with the most advanced nation in the world."

Regional Report --Riverfront Rail Relocation Study

(Illinois Metro East Industrial Development Corporation)

Construction will begin this summer on a new riverfront rail complex at the mail in Collinsville, according to plans unveiled by Architectural Associates, Inc. The motel will initially have 80 units and a swimming pool, and will have a seating capacity of over 800 people. Future plans call for construction of a series of convenience and specialty shops, as well as offices.

After a two-hour tour of the nation's second largest riverfront complex, U.S. Secretary of Transportation John Volpe has promised prompt action in redeveloping rail facilities along the East St. Louis riverfront.

He announced the awarding of a $465,000 contract to a planning group to begin studies on the relocation and consolidation of rail facilities in the area. The study is expected to take 18 months to complete.

The proposed relocation involves 19 railroads, 37 railroad yards and a network of connecting corridors. Ultimate cost is estimated to be $200 million.

In an appearance before the public works subcommittee of the U.S. Senate Appropriations Committee, U.S. Senator Charles Percy has asked for $18 million to continue canalization work on the Kaskaskia River.

With this appropriation, 75% of the project will be completed by July 1973. An estimated $27 million would then be needed to complete the $109 million canalization project.

A federal allocation of $10.3 million has been approved by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development for the big Denverside area, a new project in East St. Louis. The Denverside area, containing 218 acres, is located in the south end of the city. The renewal program -- providing for demolition of 702 substandard houses and buildings, relocation of 600 households, creation of a park and preparation of the area for future residential and commercial development -- has begun.

Midwest Rubber Reclaiming Co. reported net income of 30 cents per common share for the quarter ending April 30, compared with 14 cents a share for the same period a year ago. Marlin Manning Co. reported that sales reached an all-time high in the first quarter of 1972. The firm maintains its corporate headquarters and two manufacturing plants in the Illinois metropolitan area.

Second quarter earnings of Laclede Steel Co. are expected to be higher than those of the first quarter of 1972, according to a report made at the firm's annual meeting.

Peabody Coal Co., largest in the world, has increased its land holdings to more than 6,000 acres in Madison County. Plans for use of this property have not been divulged but may include mining.

A request for rezoning 770 acres in the American Bend area, northeast of Interstate 270 -- Route 111 was returned to the Madison County Board of Zoning Appeals for further consideration.

The acreage is presently zoned agricultural. A group of developers, headed by Madison Mayor Mike Sayak, wants the land rezoned to allow construction of a mobile home park, apartment complex, shopping center, light industry and golf course.

Construction has begun on a 99-bed nursing home in Wood River. The building, valued at $337,000, is expected to be completed by next Jan. 1.

Ground-breaking ceremonies took place for a new medical building to be constructed near downtown East St. Louis. The building, housing the first all-black, privately sponsored medical center in the area, will contain doctors' offices and a pharmacy.

In efforts to obtain better cooperation between the state agency and local law enforcement officials, the Illinois Bureau of Investigation has opened an office in Belleville.

Order of Arrow to Hold Conclave June 9, 10, 11

More than 200 members and candidates for membership in the Order of the Arrow are expected to attend the Cahokia Lodge Spring Conclave at Camp Sunken, near Potosi, Mo., June 9, 10 and 11, according to Terry Toth, chief of the Lodge.

The Order of the Arrow is a national honor camping society within the Boy Scouts of America whose purpose is to render service to the members on local Scout units, and to promote year around camping.

Highlights of the weekend will include the induction of new members into the order. Membership in the Arrow is achieved by Scouts and their leaders who are elected by their fellow Scouts and by participating in a 24-hour Indian ceremony known as the Ordeal, based on the traditions of the Lemni Lennape tribe of Delaware Indians.

Brotherhood Ceremony

Ordeal members who have at least ten months service as an Arrow member will be given the opportunity to seal their membership by receiving the Brotherhood. The Brotherhood ceremony is a continuation and conclusion of the Order of the Arrow Ordeal induction.

In addition to the various ceremonies, the candidates for membership and members will spend most of the day Saturday preparing Camp Sunken for the summer season which officially opens June 18.

Reservations are now due in the Scout office, 1334a Niedringhaus Ave., Granite City, for members and candidates planning to attend.

Cancer Crusade Reaches $8,000 Mark

Mrs. Glen Chaboude, Granite City Area Crusade chairman for the American Cancer Society, has announced that almost $8,000 has been collected so far in the Quad-Cities.

At an appreciation party held for volunteer workers and drive leaders at the Jaycee Hall on Poplar Street, Crusade representatives reported the following amounts tallied to date: Granite City—$4,578; Madison—$2,000; Venice—$938; Mitchell—$105; and Pontoon Beach—$150.

"It looks like we are well on our way to breaking last year's Crusade record of $8,100," Mrs. Chaboude said. She added, "I want to thank all the volunteers who participated in the year's campaign and who did such an outstanding job."

certificates of appreciation to area Crusade leaders.

Those actively receiving recognition were Mrs. Chaboude, general chairman; Earl Dotzauer, business chairman; Police Chief Frank Dutko, Madison chairman; Mrs. John Lee, Venice chairman; Mayor Otto Kreher, Pontoon Beach chairman; and Morris Miles, Mitchell area chairman.

Also presented awards were Explorer Post 104 of Madison, Mrs. Diana Scherrills and Mrs. Louis Jimmerson, assistant co-chairmen for Venice, Mrs. Reyna Stallings and Mrs. Anna Nagy, both of Granite City.

Entertainment at the party was provided by the Mexican Honorary Commission's folk dance group, headed by Steve Ortiz, commission president. A selection of Mexican folk numbers was performed.

Mrs. Emylee Alford served as party chairman and Dotzauer was in charge of prizes, donated by local merchants.

The American Cancer Society receives its funds through door-to-door solicitations and business pledges during Crusade campaigns in April. Proceeds from special fund-raising events and memorials are added to the funds collected by the volunteers.

Through these contributions the Cancer Society maintains its programs of public and professional education, service and rehabilitation to cancer patients and research projects aimed at finding a cure for cancer, Mrs. Chaboude explained.

APPRECIATION CERTIFICATES are awarded by James Hell, Madison County Cancer Crusade chairman, to Mrs. Reyna Stallings, at left, who raised over $200 as a captain in the residential drive in Granite City and Mrs. Anna Nagy, who collected the most funds as a volunteer block worker. Mrs. Glen Chaboude headed the Granite City area campaign.

$2,000 CHECK from the community of Madison is presented by Mrs. Frank Dutko, representing her husband who served as Cancer Crusade chairman for Madison. Also shown are James Hell, Madison County Crusade chairman, center, and Earl Dotzauer, business chairman for the Granite City area cancer drive.

Flood-Burgener Nuptials At St. Mark's Church

Miss Theresa Marietta Burgener, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Burgener, 629 Lincoln Ave., Venice, and James Arthur Flood, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Flood Sr., of Cornell, Wis., exchanged wedding vows in an afternoon ceremony Saturday at St. Mark's Roman Catholic Church in Venice.

Urn of white summer flowers decorated the altar for the Nuptial Mass performed at 2:30 p.m. by the Rev. John O'Connell, and the Rev. Joseph Svoboda, OMI, and the Rev. David Kallert, OMI.

Mr. Burgener escorted his daughter down the white carpeted aisle and gave her in marriage. She wore a bouffant styled gown of nylon organza. Chantilly lace ruffles formed the overskirt, creating a redingote effect.

A mantilla veil of Chantilly lace swept into a chapel length train and she carried a cascade bouquet of white gardenias, centered with a detachable gardenia corsage.

Maid of honor, Miss Lee Ann Burgener, a sister of the bride, and bridesmaids, Miss Ann Flood, a sister of the groom and Miss Susan Reichart, were dressed alike in Empire style gowns of floral flocked voile in rose.

Fragile lace accented the Empire bodices, and short flared sleeves and a ruffled flounce on the gathered full skirts. They wore white picture hats encircled with ribbons to match their gowns ending in long streamers.

The attendants carried colonial nosegays of pink and white carnations, purple statice and baby breath.

The little flower girl, Janet Lynn Ponce, was attired in a dress similar to the bridal gown. Freddy Durer, Jr., a cousin of the bride, served as ringbearer.

Michael Schumacher was the best man. Thomas Flood, brother of the groom, Bradley Timmerman, Casper Burgener Jr., a cousin of the bride, and Ron Puzik completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

A reception for guests was given at the Venice-Madison American Legion Hall immediately following the ceremony. After a wedding trip through the Southwestern states the couple will make their home in Eau Claire, Wis.

The former Miss Burgener will graduate this month from Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus where she majored in speech pathology and audiology. She is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon service fraternity and is a 1969 graduate of St. Elizabeth's Academy in St. Louis.

Mr. Flood was graduated in 1969 from St. Henry Preparatory Seminary in Belleville. He presently is attending the University of Wisconsin, La Crosse campus, majoring in physical education-health.

Graduates at Missouri Academy

Cadet Robert Windisch of Grand Ave. The Missouri Military Academy, formerly of tary Academy, a school for boys, is located at Mexico, Mo.

A crowd of 1,500 cadets and parents heard Missouri Gov. Warren Hearnes urge that emotions be kept under control on political issues of the day and that graduates "rely instead upon the discipline of an educated mind."

"This nation now suffers from an intensity of heat which generates very little light," he said. "From all sides we are bombarded with emotional accusations about Vietnam, poverty, prejudice and pollution."

"The greatest service which your generation can provide is to curb the use of blind emotionalism in shaping public policy," the governor said.

Gov. Hearnes, a graduate of the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, N. Y., was presented a Distinguished Service Award from the Association of Military Colleges and Schools of the United States by Colonel Charles Stribling III, M.M.A. president. The Missouri official was cited for his "enduring patriotic precepts and dedication to the principles of freedom, justice and peace."

Cadet Windisch, son of Mrs. Mary A. Windisch of Sukiran, received a non-commissioned officers warrant; academic distinction in Economics and Government; a DAR American History Award; and a high school diploma.

The youth is a grandson of Mrs. Helen DeRuntz, 2145

St. John Church Scene Of Kelley-Jenkins Wedding

St. John United Church of Christ was the scene of the wedding on Saturday afternoon of Miss Patricia Marlene Jenkins, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton L. Jenkins, 3157 Jill Ave., and Daniel M. Kelley Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel M. Kelley, 2912 Buxton Ave.

Mrs. Irene Barrick, organist, provided several wedding selections preceding the ceremony. The Rev. Paul Surbey performed the double ring ceremony at 2 o'clock before an altar decorated with all bouquets of white flowers accented with yellow daisies.

Given in marriage by her father, the former Miss Jenkins wore a gown fashioned of Chantilly lace. A tiny satin ribbon accented the high neckline, the top and wrists of the long puffed sleeves and encircled the high waist.

Tiers of scalloped lace, etched with iridescent sequins, formed the skirt, cascading at the back into a full sweep train.

At forward headpiece of matching lace secured her elbow length veil of bridal illusion and the bridal bouquet was an arrangement of yellow and white daisies, miniature roses, baby breath and ivy.

Miss Vicki Miller, maid of honor, served with Miss Drema Landys, Miss Debbie Calvert and Miss Diane Kozol, bridesmaids.

Junior bridesmaids included Pamela Jenkins, the bride's sister, Vicki Kelley, a sister of the groom and Cathy Jane Norris, a cousin of the bride. The attendants were dressed alike in yellow chiffon gowns designed with scoop neckline and long flowing skirts. A multi-colored embroidered braid encircled the waistline and accented the neckline.

They wore large picture hats, laced with yellow ribbon, and they carried bouquets of yellow and white daisies.

Mark Randolph Neely, ring-bearer, escorted the little flower girl, Denise Kelley, a niece of the groom. She wore a frock similar to the attendants' dresses.

Serving the groom as best man was Jim Burback. Groomsmen and ushers were Gary Hotz, Dale Keller, Dale Dugan, Ricky Chilton, Harley Barton and Tom Watts.

The newly married couple received guests at a reception at the Croation Home in Madison following the service. Miss Barbara Watts, a cousin of the groom, attended the guest book.

Mrs. Jenkins chose a floral organza dress in spring colors, featuring a rolled collar, fitted waist and flared skirt. Yellow accessories complemented the ensemble.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Kelley, selected a two-piece beige suit trimmed in white, fashioned with a bodice of brown and orange print. Her accessories were in matching shades.

Both mothers wore corsages of white roses. Mr. and Mrs. Kelley are graduates of Granite City High School. They plan to move to California, where the groom is stationed at San Diego, with the U. S. Navy.

San Fernando Nemesis Shoos Cougars from NCAA Tourney

The baseball Cougars of Southern Illinois University-Southern nearly made it in the national NCAA College Division finals at Springfield but were stopped cold yesterday by San Fernando (Calif.) Valley 10-0.

The San Fernando Matadors, who tripped Coach Roy Lee's Cougars 7-6 in the double-elimination opener Friday, continued to blank rivals by downing Southern Florida 3-0 last night. The two teams will play for the title at 7 p.m. today.

The Cougars were held to four hits, including three by first baseman Bill Campbell, while the Matadors jumped off to an early start yesterday against SIU-SW's starting pitcher Steve Malone. Other hurlers in the game were Sam Stewart, Stan Hawkins, Bill Baltz and Dale Wilderspin.

Luck was against the Cougars Friday as they outlived San Fernando 10 to 9. The local team was ahead 6-4 after scoring three runs in each of the seventh and eighth innings, but the Matadors came back with three in the bottom of the eighth.

Ace Ron Middleton started the game for SIU-SW but the decisive runs were scored against reliever Joe Restoff. He walked in a run and served a one-run homer, Mike Dickey also hurled in relief.

The Cougars stayed alive in the series Saturday by downing the University of Missouri-St. Louis 4-1. Don Rains of Granite City went all the way on the mound, scattering nine hits. It was the seventh victory in a row for the Cougars over UMsl teams.

Ron Rohlfing got things started for Coach Lee's squad with a three-run homer, his eighth of the season and second in two games of the series, in a first-frame blast. Catcher Tim Summers slammed a second frame homer with the bases empty.

With the close of the long season, the Cougar diamond-men came through with a 31-15-2 record.

MOST VALUABLE COUGAR TRACK STAR.
 Mike Allen, right, of Granite City, was picked as the most valuable track star for the Southern Illinois University-Southern squad during the 1972 season. Allen, a standout in hurdle events, led the Cougars to a 4-2 season. Making the presentation is Cougar Coach Jack Whitted, left.

Speedway Offers $25 Reward After Corbin Wins Again

By GARY SCHNEIDER
 Press-Record Staff Writer
 "Wanted. Tom Corbin. $25 Reward." It is how the posters read at the Tri-City Speedway after track promoter Don Robinson of Marion offered a $25 bounty on the super-sprint driver who can defeat the Carrollton, Mo., driver.

Corbin became a "wanted" man after winning his third consecutive feature event at the speedway Friday night. The purple number 4 was the fastest qualifier of the evening, speeding over the half-mile clay oval in 24.16 seconds, which earned him the pole position for the 20 lap feature.

He took good advantage of the position and in the first turn of the event edged out the other front row car of Bill Utz of Sedalia, Mo., for the lead.

know how many a times I flipped. All I remember is thinking I had to keep my arms inside the car so I squeezed the steering wheel and hung on," he said. Reidt was not injured.

Corbin went on to win the event with Utz, Camfield and Shirley finishing second, third and fourth. Wild Spalding of the steering wheel and hung on the feature but had to pull into the pits before the green flag with engine problems. His crew worked furiously to make repairs but Spalding finally climbed out of the car and out of the race.

The sprint defeat was not the end of the day, however, for the Pontoon Beach driver as he climbed into his number 44 Camaro late model stock car to await the running of that feature, an event in which he finished second.

Superb Driving
 The week before, Spalding won the late model feature with Bill Myers of Rosewood Heights second. Observers commented on the determination and superb driving by Myers that week as he reversed the order of finishers. Starting on the outside of the first row beside Spalding, Myers gave his all in the first turn to take the lead.

The battle continued for the entire 20 laps with Spalding trying to find a way to pass in each turn, but being unsuccessful with each attempt.

"I knew he was trying to get by but I just kept the speed as high as I could and managed to hold him back," Myers related after his victory. "My front end was sliding around, quite a bit, particularly in the second turn, but I didn't dare let up," he added.

During the event, Mike Glass of Edwardsville lost his seat and 6 and 12 will be admitted for his car and it careened over the outside fence during the second and third turns. Glass was injured.

Runners-Up
 Louie Proben of Bethalto finished third and Joe Northrup of Jacksonville was fourth in the feature.

Spalding was the fastest late-model qualifier with a lap of 27.35 seconds and Myers, Jan-Psen and Northrup were second, third and fourth. Spalding won the handicap event with Jansen second and Jerry Camfield third.

Myers had been running third in the second lap of the event but was forced to drop out with engine problems. Fast pit action for the third heat, which Myers won.

Ron Booher of Florissant, Mo., won the second heat with Butch McGowen of Hardin, a newcomer to Tri-City, finishing second. Norm Cox of Berkeley, Mo., was third in the heat.

Fastest Qualifier
 In the super-sprints, Utz was the second fastest qualifier to Corbin and Jones was third. Jerry Camfield won the handicap event for the fastest cars after being admitted to the lineup when Jones pulled out with engine problems. Utz finished second followed by Spalding and Corbin.

The Shrine Circus will appear at the speedway Tuesday, Wednesday and 4 Thursday nights and racing will resume Friday with time trials at 7:30 p.m. and racing at 8:30.

Robinson announced that under a new admission policy, adult admission will remain at $3, children under six years of age will be admitted free and children between the ages of 6 and 12 will be admitted for 50 cents.

Mercer, Boosters Drop Ball Games

Vans of East Alton belted Mercer into a 10-5 loss Sunday while Mollitor Motors of Collinsville blasted St. Mary's 9-2 in the Illinois Inter-City League action.

Mercer had a 3-0 lead going into the top of the fifth inning when the bats of Van's boomed, sending home six runs.

Pat Harris was charged with the loss. He was relieved in the fifth by Bob Finke who tagged a solo home run in the third frame while playing the outfield. Bob Scott accounted for Mercer's final two runs in the bottom of the fifth as he homered with Dave Evans on base.

Mercer and Fairfax will play a make up game, under the lights at 8 p.m. Wednesday at Vanspreter Park in East Alton. Both teams have 1-4 records.

Despite the 9-2 loss to Mollitor, St. Mary's play host to Fairfax on Sunday beginning at 2 p.m.

In other Inter-city action Fairfax sneaked by Highland-Pierson 3-2.

Mollitor garnered 11 hits and made one error while St. Mary's had five hits and committed three errors.

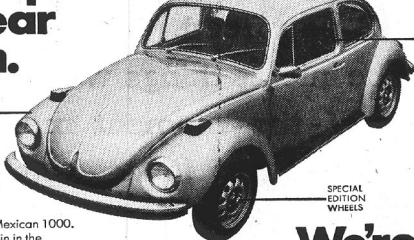

St. Mary's will play host to Fairfax on Sunday beginning at 2 p.m.

In other Inter-city action Fairfax sneaked by Highland-Pierson 3-2.

When you eat is also important.

If you are skipping breakfast, it could be upsetting your whole daily balance of food intake. This is true if you are on a diet. By morning you have already used up two thirds of the energy supplied by your evening meal. By mid-morning there is nothing left and you could drag most all day long.

What about vitamins? We believe a properly planned vitamin supplement can be important and we carry a complete stock of vitamin products made by reputable manufacturers. But, they are in no way a substitute for a well balanced daily diet. Start your day off right. You could feel better for it.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge.

American Steel Worker Wins Suggestion Award

"Ideas come to you while working, and when I had this one I let it be known to see if anyone wanted to do anything about it."

Such was the comment by Avon Williams, a welder in the cleaning and finishing department of American Steel Foundries, who was awarded $2,147 last week for a suggestion that will save the firm about $5,000 a year.

The award was presented by A. P. Steinhauser, works manager of the Granite City plant, for suggestion of a method which reduces the machining time of test bars.

Williams, who lives in St. Louis, has been employed at the plant more than 30 years.

His suggestion was that the test bars be washed in a cylindrical shape, thus reducing the preparation time for the test bars to be machined.

The amount of the award is equivalent to 50% of the net savings for one year.

American Steel Foundries is an operating unit of AMSTED Industries of Chicago.

Williams said he is planning a fishing trip to northern Minnesota for about ten days, and will put the bulk of the money in the bank.

Chamber 'Play Day' Scheduled Tomorrow

About 200 members of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce will be attending the Chamber's 16th annual "play day," tomorrow at Sunset Hills Country Club, Herman Schroeder, chairman of the event, has reported.

"Play day," Schroeder said, is one day each year when the Chamber's members all get together for a day of just fun and relaxation. On all other occasions, the members are engaged in committee business meetings. Play day brings together the manufacturer, retailer, doctor, lawyer, insurance man, etc.; the Chamber's membership is broad based."

MUSICOLOGIST Otto Albrecht studies a new setting of Schumann's "Ich Grolle Nicht" he discovered among the manuscripts at Lovejoy Library at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern.

Beethoven Papers Found At Lovejoy Library

The title page and three of the four missing measures of original score of a Beethoven concerto housed in the British Museum have turned up at Lovejoy Library at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern.

Otto Albrecht of the University of Pennsylvania's music department has confirmed the discovery made by fine arts librarian Mabel Murphy at SIU-SW. A photo copy of the title page has been supplied the British Museum, taken by Charles Cox of the SIU-SW Photo Service.

Identity of the manuscript was not known until the SIU-SW librarian removed it from a frame which hid Beethoven's autograph and description of this composition. It was the beginning of Opus 61a, the piano version of the Violin Concerto in D.

The missing section had been torn off years ago by a souvenir hunter and the two pieces had wound up in permanent homes in different countries.

Albrecht, an internationally known musicologist, was here May 23 searching for materials he might have overlooked in his 1953 Census of Autograph Music Manuscripts of European Composers in American Libraries, published by the University of Pennsylvania Press.

During his one-day stay, Albrecht also discovered a completely different setting of German composer Robert Schumann's "Ich Grolle Nicht," part of the Dichterliebe cycle. The one owned by Lovejoy is in D Minor; the published setting is in C major.

Schumann began writing songs in 1840 and the manuscript discovered by Albrecht is thought to be among his first. "As far as we know, this setting has never been performed," Miss Murphy said. Both of the manuscripts are in the Tollefson collection acquired by Lovejoy Library three years ago from the estate of the late Carl Tollefson, Brooklyn, N. Y. A member of the Tollefson Trio, he traveled extensively in his time advancing the cause of chamber music.

Beauty culture students are required to attend classes at the participating beauty school for half-day periods in their junior and senior years at high school. The pupils attend full-time sessions in the intervening summer months until they have completed 1,500 hours of training.

The beauty culture vocational program was started in Granite City in September 1970, with 44 students enrolled.

A total of 32 students has completed the course and are eligible to take State Board examinations.

Three other students were forced to drop out of the co-operative program because of academic deficiencies, but all plan to finish the course during the summer months, a spokesman for the Granite City School District vocational department reported.

Interview Tips for Teens Seeking First Employment

An employment interview is probably the most important step to securing a job and several suggestions through which teenage applicants may better prepare themselves to meet a prospective employer are offered by C. A. "Bud" MacMillan, executive director of Coordinated Youth Services.

Before taking the decisive job interview step, MacMillan said, know a little about the firm at which you are seeking employment. By checking ahead of time, an individual can make a suggestion of some specific way he can be of service to a prospective employer.

Personal appearance—A well groomed person shows respect for himself and for others. But, be yourself, the CYS director advised.

Know yourself—What are your interests and qualifications? Be prepared to speak about them, briefly, intelligently and clearly.

Go to the interview alone—The employer is not interested in what friends and relatives think of your qualifications. He will judge for himself.

Punctuality—This is important. MacMillan noted, together with presenting yourself in a straight forward manner.

Granite City PRESS-RECORD
Page 12 Mon., June 5, 1972

Stay alert, attentive and cordial—answer questions in a business-like manner. Think before answering. Be polite, honest and frank. Be diplomatic and tactful. The employer is interested in the experience and training relevant to the job he is offering.

Do take important papers with you to the interview—proof of age (birth certificate); date of graduation and type of diploma received; Social Security card; health certificate, work permit and union card, if required.

An applicant who is careless, unmotivated and tardy has little chance to impress a prospective employer, regardless of his other qualifications, MacMillan said.

Salvation Army Begins Counseling Service

A counseling service for unwed mothers is available each Wednesday, between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. at the Salvation Army's new office location, 1909 Grand Ave. Major Ruby Mae DuBois, administrator of Booth Memorial Hospital, St. Louis, said this week, "In the interest of Granite City and surrounding communities, and in view of the prominent unwed mother problems, we have opened a counseling service.

"Unwed mothers may be referred to the service, or may call for an appointment through the local Salvation Army office, phone 451-7957." The hospital administrator added, "We are happy to be able to extend this additional service to the community and are looking forward to serving any unwed mother who would benefit from our services."

The Granite City Salvation Army relocated its offices Thursday at the Grand Avenue address, at the rear of the Citadel. The office previously was located in the 1200 block of 19th Street.

This is Circus Week in the Quad City Area. We hope you all enjoyed the Parade last Thursday. We know you'll enjoy the Circus even more. If you need tickets, we have plenty of tickets FOR SALE; $2.00 admits one adult or two children. Don't forget, the performances are at the Tri-City Speedway on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday at 7:30 P.M. In case these dates are not available in your schedule, the Circus will be in Belleville on Saturday, Sunday and Monday. All evening performances in Belleville will start at 7:30. There will be a matinee on Saturday at 2 p.m. and on Sunday there will be two matinees: one at 1 p.m. and the other at 4 p.m. Oh yes, the best place to see the Circus is at the Speedway because the seats are closer to the acts. You all be sure and come.

We tried something new last week. A five day sale. Many of our customers wanted to know what happened to our Thursday ad. Since the sale started on Tuesday we thought we would try it with just one big sale in the Tuesday paper.

From time to time our "days" is really made when people walk up and introduce themselves saying, "we're new customers. We like your store and we like your prices." These are the words we love to hear. When we hear them we know that the "blood, sweat and tears" expended by us and our 65 associates are really worth while.

Each performance at 5100 Nameoki Road will begin at 7:30 p.m. There will be no matinee performance of the circus in Granite City this year. Acts in the circus will include "The Albanis," an aerial motorcycle act; Willie Necker's Dalmatians, a dog act; and John "Tarzan" Zerbini with a mixed group of lions and Royal Bengal tigers.

The annual circus is produced by L. N. Fleckles and features top acts, booked a year in advance to assure the best in the entertainment world. Potentate Harold G. Baker Jr., said today.

Also featured here will be the circus band; Jesse Cardona and his "Thundering" Rheas monkeys and Cimsie's canines; Burt Gonzales, sharpshooter; Al's "Jemon-zeen" auto; Lothar with a one-finger stand. The Laddies jugglers; the Zavatras, balancing act and upside-down walk; the "Flying Armors"; Mademoiselle Jacqueline, a trapeze performer; Berosini's chimpanzees; a surprise novelty number; Ed Dulum, magic.

The circus will show at the Belle Clair Fairgrounds in Belleville June 10, 11 and 12 after leaving Granite City. At Belleville, the June 10 and 11 performances will include matinees with only an evening performance on the last night.

The arrival of the circus was heralded here Thursday night by the giant Shrine parade in Granite City, also an annual event, featuring units of Anad Temple Shrine and Moolah Temple St. Louis.

Granite City Shrine units, including the Rolling Nobles, the Compacts and Oriental Band, and other units from throughout the area, joined in the parade, one of the largest here each year.

The parade route, from 18th Street and Madison Avenue down Madison Avenue to Granite City High School, was jammed with young and old alike watching the spectacle. Clowns along the length of the parade filled children on the sidelines with candy and bubble gum.

"Theft of property unattended in automobiles is covered only in the more costly 'broad form' Homeowner Policy. Does this mean that theft of a fur coat from an open convertible while the insured was having lunch in a secluded restaurant—such theft would be covered by a 'broad form' Homeowner Policy?"

Arch Train System On Full Schedule

The Gateway Arch Passenger Transportation System is in operation from 8:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. seven days a week. The system will maintain this schedule through Sept. 4.

Visitors are reminded that the ride to the top of the Arch requires a minimum round trip time, including viewing, of approximately 20 minutes. Ticket sales will be suspended each evening in time to permit all passengers having tickets to be transported to the top of the Arch prior to closing.

The Gateway Arch Passenger Transportation System is operated by the By-System Development Agency under terms of a 30-year cooperative agreement with the National Park Service.

The sixth grade class of Washington School entertained students, parents, teachers and the public during two performances of the Spring variety show "Up With Pupils" at the school.

Among the acts were a free exercise act, a skating performance, a skit, a baton act and instrumental and vocal musical numbers.

The show was directed by Carole Humphrey, and Glen Halfacre served as technical director.

Stop Penalizing Senior Citizens for Their Seasonal or Part-Time Work—Gov. Ogilvie

By GOVERNOR
RICHARD B. OGILVIE

A recent radio editorial spanked both me and my opponent on the ground that politicians are somehow protected from the real world of people. Well, I would just bet I see and talk to 500 times as many people every year as the writer of the editorial does.

And most of the people I meet aren't the least bit hesitant in sharing their concerns with me—and I listen.

Most of these conversations are very helpful, because if you listen carefully, you can get a first-hand impression of changes in progress or those about to happen.

Unless I am mistaken in my judgment, I see a profound change taking place right now in our attitudes toward our senior citizens.

We are awakening, at last, to some of the problems they face, and some of them we can do about their problems.

The chief problem, of course, is money to live on—most elderly persons are caught in the vise of low fixed incomes and rising prices.

I think it's time we took a hard look at our national laws affecting persons living on Social Security checks.

For reasons that may have seemed sound long ago, the law sets a limit on what an elderly person may earn without suffering a penalty.

In today's economy, such a provision is self-defeating and it certainly contributes to the breadline, isolation and poverty of far too many older citizens.

It smacks of the Depression-era NRA, so much of which was geared to artificial means of stimulating employment.

Whatever increase in social security payments comes out of the present Congress, it will not be enough to justify continuing the present penalty on elderly persons who would like to work.

I don't have in mind, generally, full-time employment, but rather the kinds of jobs that are seasonal or part-time. The income from such jobs could be an important part of an elderly person's total income.

But in the long run, the monetary gains may be less important than the gain in pride, the contact with the working world, and the easing of the isolation of the elderly.

Rather than discouraging such employment—as the present law does—we should strongly encourage it.

I intend to present such a proposal to the platform committee of my party this summer.

Now I know the platform of the parties sometimes are regarded as meaningless, but I don't entirely share this view.

The mere discussion of problems, and proposed solutions, can often be very productive by itself.

The proposal also opens for discussion the whole range of problems of the elderly, which I am convinced are about to get the kind of attention they deserve.

This attention is long overdue.

It will recognize, I am sure, two great changes in our society:

—People live longer than in the past, and making them live in enforced idleness helps no one.

—We have long since outgrown a Depression-era economy, during which ways were sought to limit jobs to persons in their normal working years with families to support.

Evidence of the latter trend can be found among many of our young people, particularly college young people, who more and more are taking the so-called unskilled jobs to make money and, incidentally, to get a better slant on the world.

One bright college girl I know worked nights as a waitress, moonlighting on her regular daytime summer job.

What she earned was far less important than what she learned about how hard it is to be a crackjack waitress. She reported:

"You wouldn't believe how good the regulars are. They can serve two tables to my one. They remember everything and get it right every time."

News and views from Illinois Power Company
Energy and Environment

—from a talk to the Clinton, Ill. Lions Club by E. A. Shultz, senior vice president of Illinois Power Company.

"I want to emphasize the close relationship between energy and our civilization. Without energy our civilization cannot survive. The known forms of energy production have some effect on the environment."

"The secret of survival of our civilization lies in our attaining a proper and rational balance between the environmental needs and the energy needs of our civilization. Illinois Power Company is working just as hard as its people know how to achieve this proper balance. In the meantime, I ask you to use your influence to maintain a sensible balance between the environmental needs and the energy requirements of our civilization."

"I believe you will agree this influence must be exerted on our legislators, our governors and our President. The bureau which have been established to conduct this matter of environmental control have at this time no legislative control over their activities. We have found also that they are peculiarly insensitive to the need for a rational balance between environment and energy needs. We need some way to bring to their attention, through public action, this required balance. If this cannot be achieved then power rationing for your homes, your businesses and your factories is only a few years ahead."

Environmental control system being completed at Wood River Plant

(from a press release by Nooter Corporation, St. Louis, Mo.)

Nooter Corporation, a St. Louis-based steel and alloy plate fabricator and erector, is completing a major component for a reheater Cat-Ox system at the Wood River station of Illinois Power Company. This system, which was designed and is being constructed by Monsanto Enviro-Chem Systems, Inc., is the first full scale commercial installation. It will be used for the control of sulfur dioxide and fly ash emissions from the 100 Mw unit #4 at Wood River.

The reheater Cat-Ox project is jointly funded by Illinois Power Company, of Decatur, and the Office of Air Programs Federal Environmental Protection Agency.

The carbon steel converter erected by the Nooter Field Construction Department will be used to convert sulfur dioxide gas to sulfuric acid as a marketable by-product.

IP IT'S OUR BUSINESS TO SERVE YOU BETTER
ILLINOIS POWER COMPANY

Construction near completion on the catalytic oxidation system installed at Illinois Power Company's Wood River Plant. The world's first installation of its kind, the system is designed to convert sulfur dioxide and fly ash emissions to a marketable commodity.

In its search for increased storage capacity for natural gas, Illinois Power recently drilled a hole nearly a mile deep near the Hillsboro area. It is the deepest hole ever drilled by the company and provided valuable information about the geological structure beneath the surface. Indications are that the Hillsboro field could become Illinois Power's largest, providing an estimated 27 billion cubic feet of storage. During the summer months, gas is taken from the pipelines and stored in the underground fields for use in winter when demand is high.
